

UNRULY DEMOCRACY

Science Blogs and the Public Sphere

April 30, 2010 :: 9:30am–4pm :: Bell Hall, Harvard Kennedy School

9:30AM

Introduction/Framing

Sheila Jasanoff (Harvard Kennedy School)

10AM-11AM

PANEL 1: BLOGGING AS BUSINESS

Henry Donahue (Discover)

Gideon Gil (Boston Globe)

Joy Moore (Seed)

11:15AM-12:15PM

PANEL 2: SCIENCE ON THE WEB

Francesca Grifo (Union of Concerned Scientists)

Chris Mooney (MIT and Discover)

Jessica Palmer (Bioephemera)

1:15PM-2:30PM

PANEL 3: RULES AND RESPONSIBILITY

Amanda Geffer (New Scientist)

Kimberley Isbell (Citizens Media Law Project)

“Dr. Isis” (ScienceBlogs)

Thomas Levenson (MIT)

2:30PM-3:30PM

PANEL 4: NORMS AND LAW

Sam Bayard (Citizen Media Law Project)

Phil Hiltz (Knight Program, MIT)

Joseph Romm (Center for American Progress)

Cristine Russell (Harvard Kennedy School)

3:30PM-4PM

Open Discussion and Wrap-Up

Jointly sponsored by the Program on Science, Technology and Society at the Harvard Kennedy School, the Shorenstein Center at the Harvard Kennedy School, and the Knight Science Journalism program at MIT.

Free and open to the public, but registration is required—visit <http://hks.harvard.edu/sts/>